our core beliefs & practices

In today's competitive marketplace it is essential to raise the bar on the vendors contributing to the day-to-day success of your business. At Allied Rivet we raised the bar on ourselves, so you can be confident that you are getting nothing less than our best. As the marketplace changes, it is most important that you have a vendor that you can count on. At Allied, we offer the highest quality rivets in the industry, at a price that is competitive. In addition to our customer-driven policies on quality and pricing, it is our goal and desire for you to feel "delighted" with your Allied Rivet experience. Realizing that not every business is the same, we have established the following foundations of support:

Services and Support

Our Customer Service/Sales Representatives are on the cutting edge of rivet application information. It is their pleasure to assist you with any questions about choosing the rivet that is right for you, or any other question that may arise. We are here for you!

Stocking Programs

It is understood that hot rush orders wait for no one, and with that in mind, we can establish stocking programs for your special requirements. We will keep one release made and on the shelf for you at all times. Your rivets are a phone call away!

Quality Control

Quality is no longer just a desire, but an expectation! Allied Rivet has designed procedures to assure each of your orders is manufactured to tight tolerances and with the highest consistency. It is these procedures that have allowed us to serve distributors and manufacturers alike, and establish a name that instills confidence. Ask your service representative to describe our quality systems!
